

Global History Final Project Rubric

	Cartographer	Archeologist	Chronicler	Timeline
Content	Map contains all of the required elements, and is full with much diverse content	Paragraphs include all key information about period and piece. Piece includes all key elements of the original within reason.	Paragraph and piece together contain much content connected to the specific piece and the key points discussed in class from the period.	Timeline contains 30-40 of the most important events of the period, with description where appropriate. Many pictures are included.
Design	Map exhibits highly refined features of map design, such as key, font labeling, symbols, labels, and other cartographic elements. Design serves the function of the map.	Technical aspects well executed. Creative and thoughtful approach to recreation. Paragraphs cover correct content.	Paragraph functions to introduce the piece, and may be written in character as a scholar. Piece is written from the perspective of the time period, without technical errors that show a lack of understanding of the task.	Timeline is arranged on a line, with dates accurately spaced apart, and without inconsistencies in the progression of time. Dates chosen that make sense for a timeline to represent larger topics from the period.
Aesthetics	Text is written neat and legible; distinguished; Visual elements are colorful, and easily distinguished; All elements are drawn carefully and neatly	Piece shows that care and concentration were put into its creation. Work is neat, attractive, and colorful.	Content of the piece is creative and interesting, helping to explain the content. Uses language to add to the illusion. In applicable cases, piece appears original.	Text is written neatly and is organized so that the timeline does not look cluttered or empty. Many images are colorful, if drawn, drawn well, if printed, well chosen and placed. Additional decorative elements enhance the timeline.
Accuracy	Clearly and accurately displays information; Shape, size, placement correct; No grammar or spelling errors	Piece accurately reflects, within reason the original, in terms of dimension, style, and overall appearance.	Writing style and vocabulary are consistent with the time period of the piece. No chronological or historical errors are made. In applicable cases, forgery is convincing.	Dates are accurate to their events. Information is factually accurate. Images match the appropriate events. Time period is consistent.